On the ball with the Manager

Welcome to today's visitors Crystal Palace who come to Burnden Park today on the crest of a wave after winning promotion and finding the First Division very much to their liking.

On Saturday their climb towards the top was slowed a little by a 1-1 home draw against Bristol City when Jim Cannon scored from the penalty spot to earn his side a point.

But they are still third from the top of the table on goal difference before today's game and with 12 games having been played so far, that speaks for itself.

I am the first to admit that we are not finding things easy at all with only one win to our credit so far, but it is up to us to find the right answers and battle our way out of it.

Our last three games, against Liverpool, Arsenal and Nottingham Forest, brought us up against some of the toughest opposition in the country..... or in Europe come to that!

I said after the Arsenal game that the Londoners set their stall out for an away result and they got one.

We had the chances to have won the game but didn't take them and the game itself wasn't very pretty to watch, I admit.

At Nottingham Forest, we found the European Champions in top form and the 5-2 scoreline speaks for itself.

The game was notable for the first senior goal scored by Chris Thompson who has done very well since coming into the side for his League debut against Liverpool.

Let's hope it is the first of many for the youngster who looks to have a good future in the game.

Against Forest, Dave Clement was injured and Neil McNab came on as substitute. This meant that we had to do some reorganisation and with the tide running so very strongly against us it was just not our day at all.

We are due to return to the winning path, and our supporters can rest assured that we are doing everything possible to get back in the groove. We need their encouragement and hopefully will reward them with a result today.

Welcome to CRYSTAL PALACE

Crystal Palace's triumphant return to the First Division this season should have surprised no one. Even when they were in the Third Division, less than three years ago, Palace were developing along First Division lines and, with present manager Terry Venables continuing so capably the early groundwork put in by his predecessor Malcolm Allison, Palace now have a team with the potential to go right to the top.

Some indication of the quality of player produced by the Selhurst Park club can be gleaned from the fact that, over the past twelve months, Kenny Sansom (England), Peter Nicholas and Ian Walsh (Wales) and Jerry Murphy (Republic of Ireland) have all gained their first full international caps and Billy Gilbert has played in the England under-21 side.

Last week Vince Hilaire joined the international ranks when he played with club colleague Mike Flanagan in the England "B" side's 4-1 win over New Zealand. Both players got their names on the scoring list, too.

With so many outstanding young players in his side, Mr. Venables felt the need of only two new signings during the summer, following last season's Second Division Championship success. But the men he chose are players of stature who have already brought their influence very much to bear upon the side — former England skipper Gerry Francis and ex-Charlton striker Mike Flanagan.

The Palace manager felt fully justified in taking a calculated risk over the injury-proness of Francis because, for his £465,000 investment, he has a player of vision and style who has the capability of controlling play comprehensively from the middle of the field.

Tragically, when he was due to break back into the international scene last week, another injury forced him to drop out of the England "B" side.

Flanagan has been busy repaying his massive transfer fee and he has forged a fine striking partnership with David Swindlehurst. Flanagan had scored seven goals, and Swindlehurst four prior to last weekend.

Palace's style varies between 4-4-2 and 4-3-3. Vince Hilaire plays in midfield or as a third forward, depending upon circumstances, while the other midfield players are usually Peter Nicholas, Jerry Murphy and Gerry Francis. When Francis was injured, Steve Kember was recalled to the side.

The defence has remained intact all season with John Burridge in goal performing behind a back four of Paul Hinshelwood, Jimmy Cannon, Billy Gilbert and Kenny Sansom.

While most newly-promoted clubs feel their way cautiously during the early weeks of a season, Palace went straight into attack and, after nine games, they were the only undefeated team left in the First Division and were sitting proudly on top of the table for the first time in their history!

Palace scored 15 goals in the process with every member of the team — apart from the goalkeeper and centre-back Billy Gilbert — scoring at least one goal.

After that wonderful run, Palace's record went crashing at Southampton, one of their bogey teams. They were thrashed 1-4 and, when they went down 1-3 at Everton in their next match, the cynics were beginning to sharpen their tongues with some acid remarks.

But we shall probably see today that Palace's success was no flash in the pan. They are a team that has character, as much as skill and determination.

In the League Cup, Palace equalled a club record in knockout football when crushing Stockport County 7-0 in the second leg of the second round to give them an 8-1 aggregate victory. In the next round they were beaten 1-2 at home by the new-look Wolves' side.

Palace's previous spell of First Division football ended with relegation in 1973. Malcolm Allison was their manager at the time and, twelve months later they dipped further into the Third Division. When they failed to make a quick return, Mr. Allison resigned and Terry Venables, his assistant, took over. In 1977 Palace gained promotion from the Third Division and this year they took the Second Division championship.

Chris makes an Impact...

CHRIS Thompson seems to have been on the scene for quite some time now and so it was that many people were shocked when he lined up against Liverpool on October 9th and it was discovered that the game was the youngster's League debut.

What a game in which to make your bow in League football!

The Anfield giants, still smarting from their unexpected exit from the European Cup at the hands of the Russian club Dinamo Tbilisi, had regained some of their lost pride by pasting Bristol City 4-0 at home the previous Saturday.

More to the point Liverpool were out to avenge what they considered a moral defeat in the first week of the season when Wanderers went to Merseyside and pinched a point from a scoreless draw.

Thompson was given the job of keeping tabs on Terry McDermott, whose lightning breaks from midfield were considered one of the major threats to Wanderers' defence.

Not only did Chris handle McDermott with the expertise of a seasoned professional, but he also made his individual mark on midfield and earned praise from many quarters being named Bolton's man of the match. He made a great contribution to Bolton's performance which almost saw them pull off a shock victory over Bob Paisley's men.

For much of the game Liverpool were at their devastating best, sweeping forward at break-neck speed like a red tide, but that was to be expected. Bolton's defence held firm, though and when Neil Whatmore turned Phil Thompson and found the narrowest of gaps between Ray Clemence and the near post, Bolton were ahead and hopes were high.

Those hopes were some what dashed 10 minutes from time when Kenny Dalglish headed the equaliser from Alan Kennedy's free-kick. Even so it was a well-earned point - the second taken from the reigning League Champions. Not many teams will be able to boast that achievement this season.

It was no surprise then that Thompson was retained in midfield and again gave a fine performance in the draw with Arsenal at Burnden the following Saturday.

He seems to have fitted into his new midfield role quite confidently. After all he is a striker and manager Ian Greaves says he has not forgotten that fact, which suggests that in the near future we could see Chris pushed up into attack.

Chris might have in fact have been given his first League game late last season, but injury robbed him of the chance and kept him out of action for a number of weeks.

As a reserve team player, he had shown a flair for scoring goals and it was this skill that proved its worth last Saturday when Chris scored his first goal in League football.

Unfortunately, the goal was merely a consolation prize in a game which saw Wanderers go down to Division One leaders Nottingham Forest at the City Ground. But to beat Peter Shilton in a one-to-one situation is an achievement in itself and Chris showed a clear head and an awful lot of skill in slotting the ball past the England keeper's daunting frame.

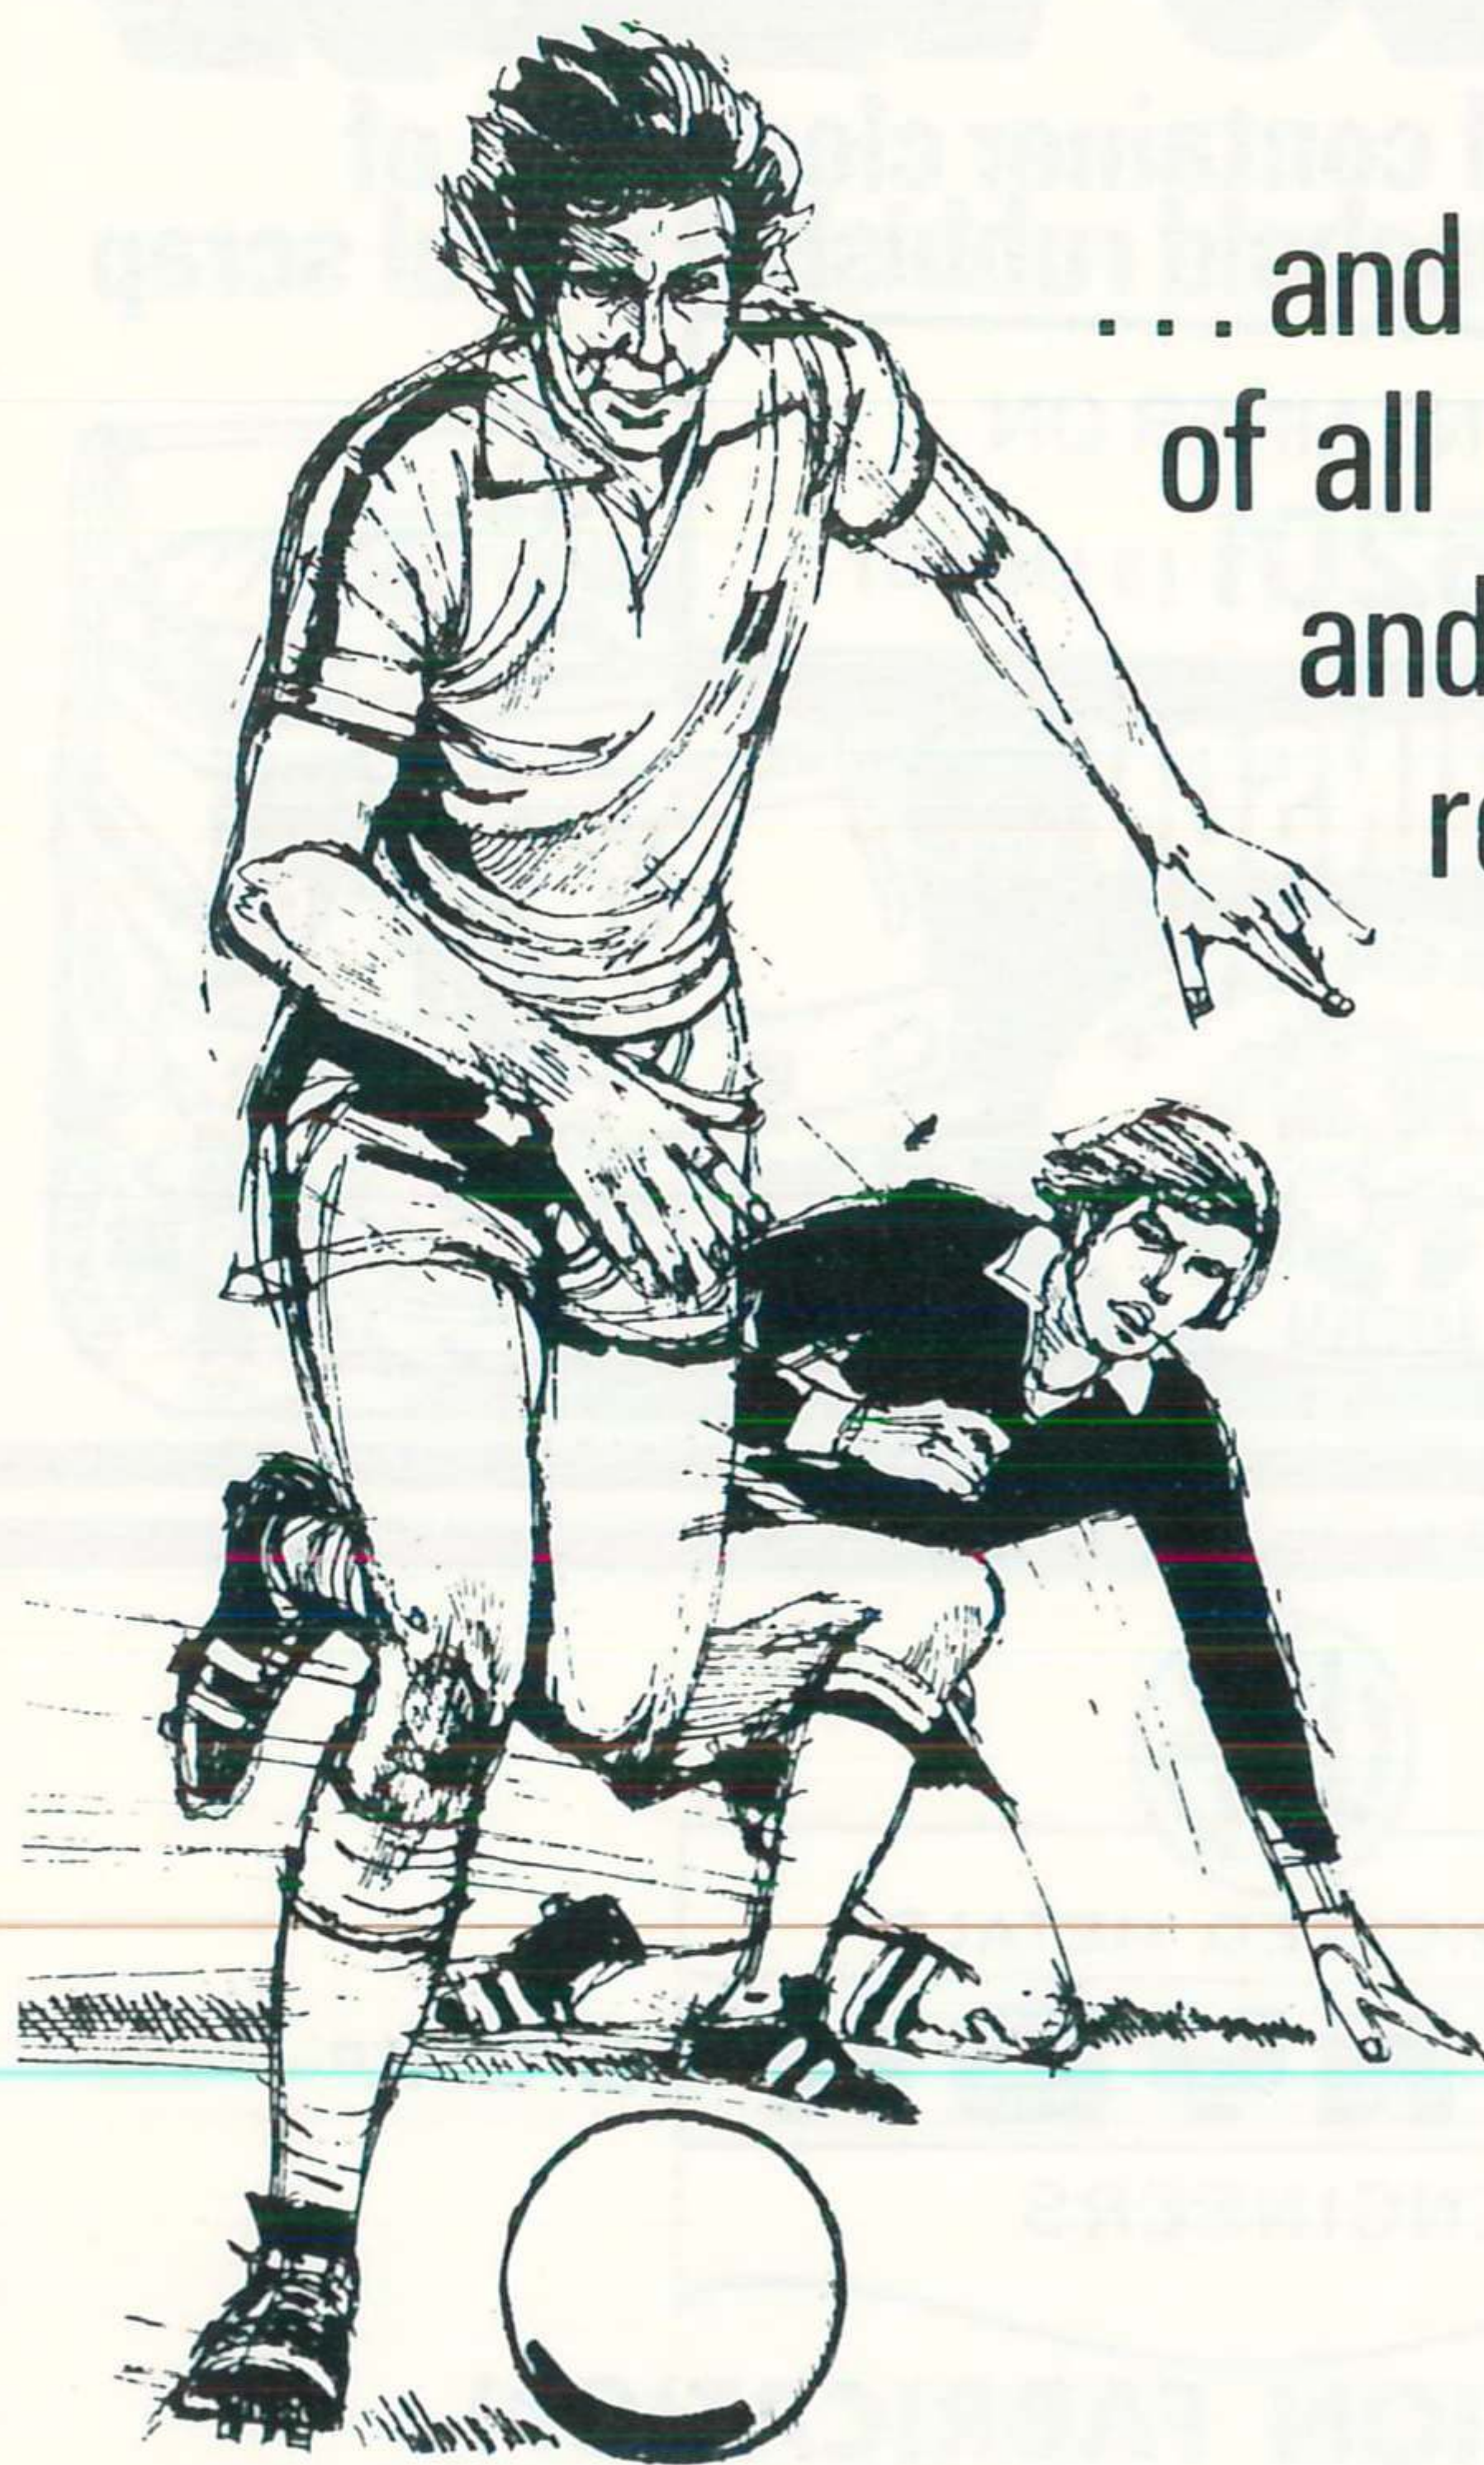

Some of the top names in football were at Burnden Park on Thursday night for the first meeting of the Football Association's North West Regional Medical Society.

The Society, the first of its kind in England, has been set up by Wanderers physiotherapist Jim Headrige who is the FA regional instructor on the treatment of injuries. Jim is secretary and treasurer of the society and has worked hard in promoting the new venture.

All the major clubs in the region were represented at the meeting at which the speakers were Allen Wade, the FA's director of coaching and Wanderers' manager Ian Greaves.

JOHN BURRIDGE (Goalkeeper) John was signed from Aston Villa for £50,000 in March 1978. His experience in the Football League goes back to 1969 when he first played for Workington. He was signed by Blackpool in 1971 and Aston Villa paid £100,000 for him in 1975.

PAUL HINSHELWOOD (Defender) Paul made his League bow for Palace in 1973/74 and he has been a fixture at right-back for the past three years. Paul is an England under-21 international.

JIMMY CANNON (Defender) Jimmy has now settled as a central defender but in the past years he has performed very well in midfield, too. He played his first League games for the club in 1972/73 and completed 200 League appearances for them last season.

BILLY GILBERT (Defender) Billy is one of many Palace players to graduate from their youth team. He made his League bow at Blackpool in October 1977 and was called back towards the end of that season. He is an England youth and under 21 international.

KENNY SANSOM (Defender) Kenny has only been holding a regular place in the Palace side for three years but last season he won under-21 and "B" international caps for England before making his first appearance in the full international side against Wales in last season's British Championship.

PETER NICHOLAS (Midfield) Versatile Peter has settled as a midfield player now but he is also an outstanding defender. He has won Welsh international caps in both positions already, though this is only his third season in the Palace side.

GERRY FRANCIS (Midfield) Gerry regained his international form after transferring from Q.P.R. to Palace this summer for £465,000 but, just as he was on the point of making his international come-back, he had to drop out of last week's England "B" match against New Zealand through injury. Gerry has 12 England caps and was skipper of his country when he was struck down by injury three years ago.

JERRY MURPHY (Midfield) Jerry won his first full cap for the Republic of Ireland in their game against Wales in September. Another Palace discovery, Jerry had played only nine League games before winning a permanent place in the side last season.

VINCE HILAIRE (Midfield) Vince can play in midfield or attack and is one of the most promising creative talents in the game. A former England youth international, he played for England "B" against New Zealand last week. He has been in the Palace side for two seasons.

STEVE KEMBER (Midfield) Steve is in his second spell with Palace. He originally joined them as a teenager and won England youth and under-23 caps. He was transferred to Chelsea for £170,000 in 1971 and to Leicester for £80,000 four years later. He returned to Selhurst Park last season.

DAVID SWINDLEHURST (Forward) David has been Palace's top scorer for four of the past five seasons and has netted four times this season. Yet another graduate from the youth team, David is an England under-21 international.

MIKE FLANAGAN (Forward) Mike joined Palace from London rivals Charlton for £815,000 this summer and has been a huge success with his new club. He was top scorer with seven goals before last weekend, form that earned him a recall to the England "B" team last week. Mike won England youth caps in his Spurs days but they gave him a free transfer without giving him a run in the first-team. Charlton snapped him up and he became a prolific scorer at The Valley, hitting a personal best 23 goals in 1976/7.

IAN WALSH (Forward) What a mixed-up season this has been for Ian! A Palace regular for the past two seasons, he lost his place when Flanagan arrived, and is now the permanent substitute. In spite of this, he was picked for his first full Welsh cap in September. He is also a Welsh under-21 international and, after making only one full appearance in the Palace side had scored three goals.

WATSON STEPS INTO SOCCER HISTORY

When Dave Watson turned out for England against Northern Ireland at Windsor Park last week, he took a step into English soccer history. He became the first man ever to win England caps whilst with four different clubs.

Watson opened his England career in his Sunderland days and later established himself as an international players while with Manchester City. He joined Werder Bremen during the summer and won one England cap — against Denmark at Wembley last month — while with the West German club. His transfer to Southampton, for £200,000, was completed a couple of days before he won his 46th cap in Belfast.

There have been several cases of men playing for England while with three clubs but Watson is the first to make it four. Most multi-cap players, in fact, have been one-club men like Billy Wright, Bobby Charlton and Bobby Moore.

Though it was clear that Dave Watson would step into the Southampton team at centre-back, it was uncertain whether he will be a straight replacement for Chris Nicholl, the current N. Ireland centre-back, or whether it would be to the exclusion of Malcolm Waldron.

The latter step looked the less likely because Waldron only last week made his entry into the international arena when he played for England "B" against New Zealand. A more likely move was that Waldron would revert to his old position at right-back, as Ivan Golac appeared to be on the point of departure from The Dell after a long-running dispute over terms.

It was a proud moment for the O'Leary family last week when brothers David and Piers filled the two central defensive positions for the Republic of Ireland against Bulgaria in the European Championship. Indeed, it could be the beginning of a long partnership for Ireland won 3-0.

What can be said with even more certainty is that young Piers will shortly be playing for a Football League club. The Shamrock Rovers' players has been the subject of several enquiries.

Malcolm Macdonald, the Arsenal and former England centre-forward who sadly announced his retirement on the eve of this season, has been tempted to play again. Super-Mac was forced to quit on medical grounds but Limerick United, the League of Ireland side, asked him to join them.

But Macdonald was not tempted to risk further serious injury and turned down the request with thanks.

One international dearly hoping to make a come-back, but who is unable to find a club, is George Best. Following representations to FIFA, Best has now been given permission to play again in this country. He would like to find a Football League club and, if any club is interested they will have to negotiate his transfer with Fulham, who hold his registration.

In spite of the split on the Fulham board — one faction maintained they should give Best a free-transfer so that English fans will have a last chance to see him in action — the Craven Cottage club, crippled by debts, will try and hold out for as much as they can get.

The award of the Robinson's Barley Water Young Player of the Month honour to Norwich City's young striker Justin Fashanu surely brings the day closer when we shall be able to name a full team of coloured England internationals in the Football League.

At the moment there are five coloured men who have played for England at full, under-21 or "B" levels — Viv Anderson (Nottingham Forest), Bob Hazell (Q.P.R.) Vince Hilaire (Crystal Palace), Luther Blissett (Watford) and Cyrille Regis (W.B.A.). In addition, of course, there is Laurie Cunningham (Real Madrid) who could one day return to the Football League.

Meet the Ref

FARLEY, TERRY (Newton Aycliffe, Co. Durham). After playing junior football took up refereeing. Has progressed via the North Regional and Northern Leagues to the Football League full list. Lined the F.A. Charity Shield at Wembley in 1975, a Football League Cup Semi-Final in 1970, also Fairs Cup and Anglo-Italian Tournament ties and a Scotland v Peru International.

Married, with two sons, he is an Accountancy Assistant and very keen on playing squash. Is Secretary of the Association of Football League Referees and Linesmen (North-East Section) also of the Bishop Auckland Referees Association. Sports Editor of Aycliffe Community Radio.

After leaving M6 at junction 6, continue along the Expressway to the first exit (Dartmouth Circus) and turn right onto New John Street.

Continue to end of street and turn right onto Newton Row (A34) and continue into High Street and along to traffic island. Turn right into Witton Road. The Villa ground is on the right.

Wanderers Travel Club

Travel facilities to away games are again available through the official Wanderers Travel Club to members who produce their membership card when booking and carry their card on all coach or rail trips.

Membership of the Travel Club for the coming season is now being accepted by the promotions office and costs just 50p for the year (free for agents).

A passport size photograph is all that is required along with the membership fee. Support your team and follow the Wanderers with the official Travel Club, starting with the trip to Villa Park, the home of Aston Villa on Saturday, November 3rd.

But remember — membership does NOT guarantee a seat. You must book early in the week to be sure of travelling.
